The Rev. Henry Mottet, the rector of the Church of the Holy Communion, New York, thinks that Sunday school teachers should be paid for their services just as are the teachers in the secular schools. He proposes to create an endowment of $100,000 for the purpose of remunerating the instructors in the Sunday school of his own church and has collected $151.50 to start the fund.

A French syndicate has begun the construction of the mammoth cotton mill near Guadalajara, Mexico. Over $1,000,000 in gold will be invested in the enterprise. The new cotton mill recently completed at Juanaquil, Guadalajara, is in full operation. It has 500 looms running. Twenty-six large cotton mills have been erected in Mexico during the past twelve months.

A French statistician records that Switzerland produces annually more books than any other country, in proportion to the number of inhabitants. One Swiss in every 3000 being an author. Germany comes next, with one for every 3200; Italy with one for every 3300; France one for 3500; England one for 6500, and the United States one for 12,400.

Anti-Expansionists who assert that it is contrary to precedent, an "unconventional" move, are invited to read the following clipping from the Louisiana Courier, printed in 1809, which seems to indicate that the residents of Louisiana, were not consulted as to their wishes, when the United States purchased that territory. Here is what it said:

"There is at last refuge of which we must not see light, since we are forced to have recourse to it, France did not sell us like the heads of slaves. No Louisiana! I appeal to the treaty of cession. France there guarantees, that our liberties should be respected. We shall not in vain present to the view of her august Chief, the arms of the sons of Frenchmen loaded with shameful chains, from which that treaty was forever to preserve us. His honor, his dignity, his power all, render it a sacred duty to him to recall the commitment of the United States to the people of Louisiana."

There is a sentimentality twaddle in a Congressional speech of Robert of Louisiana, who is a member of the "Goodland" woman's club and chairman of the national industrial committee of federation of women's clubs today. Every woman's club in Chicago has received a petition from the national anti-polygamy league calling for signatures and declaring the Roberts case to be the most serious attack on the sacredness of the marriage tie which has been made in a quarter of a century.

At a meeting of the Woodlawn woman's club, Mrs. Brown was up with her protest, and refused to add her name to those of her club sisters. She said: "This is a precious paper, filled with anti-Roberts gossip. Do you think it has been prepared since Helen Gould took her stand against Roberts? I believe it was in shape long ago and only waiting for her $5,000 donation to spread it broadcast over the country. I grant she is a superior woman, but the women of this country are not going into this subject logically. I tell you they are readying Helen Gould."

Mrs. Brown outlined her plan for charity by saying that Congressmen elect Roberts entered into polygamy before Utah was a State; that the United States accepted Utah; Roberts was chosen by Mormons as their representative at Washington. She continued: "Congressman Roberts support his wives; he gives his children's name. There is a greater evil than this among congressmen to-day. I have seen many happy Mormon women. Polygamy is a social evil, but this is not the way to destroy it. There will be men in Washington who will fear Roberts, for he is fearless, and he has brains."

LATEST BY AGUINALDO.
Manila Nov. 2.—Aguinaldo has issued a proclamation announcing that the American congress will meet in December to decide whether "the imperialistic policy" and "this bloody work" are to continue. He exhorts his soldiers to conduct themselves so that congress will consider them worthy of independence, and requests the priests to abstain from politics and redeem the church from the bad name the misdeeds of the friars have given it.

A crisis in the Filipino cabinet is predicted as the result of the resignations of Paterno and Buencamino, two Filipino leaders who have lost the confidence of the radical revolutionists. Some Filipinos who attempted to come to Manila with the Spanish commission received a message from Major General Otis saying the women and children would be given American protection, but the men who had cast their lot with the insurrection must remain with it. The party included a brother of General Luna, who was assassinated by the guard before Aguinaldo's house, with his family and the Filipino secretary of the treasury's family. The families returned to Manila.

Lieutenant Shavens of General MacArthur's staff, reconnoitering with eighteen men in front of Angeles, discovered a Filipino outpost in a trench. The Filipinos numbered about forty men. As the Filipinos had sighted the Americans, Lieutenant Shavens' only course was to charge, and his party rushed to the trench, shooting and yelling. They killed three of the insurgents and wounded several who, however, succeeded in escaping. No one of the Americans was hit. The lieutenant secured valuable information about the enemy's position.

The feeling of disquiet aroused at Manila by the arrest of Santiago, the wealthy Filipino, who is charged with forming a revolutionary junta has subsided. The natives in their quarter of the town are sullen and are restless and were heard chanting the death song at night, with the refrain, "The Americans sleep." A provost marshal's force surrounded the quarters and drove the suspicious looking natives outside the lines.

The Americans occupy Manila and the adjoining towns of Jaro and Molo with 4000 men, consisting of the Eighteenth and Twenty-sixth regiments, two battalions of the Nineteenth regiment, a detachment of the Sixth regiment and a battery of the Sixth artillery. The insurgent force is now supposed to be about 1000 men, and to have five smooth bore cannon. For a long time past they have been building trenches between Jaro and their stronghold, Santa Barbara, eight miles north.

WHAT BEFALLS THE SPEND-THRIFT.

From the Saturday Evening Post.
By most men the rosy dreams of youth are never realized. The workmen must always far outnumber the employers, more than one hundred to one. The man who puts off the practice of economy, waiting for a time when it will be easier for him to deprive himself of certain pet luxuries, learns when it is too late that he has passed the point where he can demand of the present that it shall help provide for his future. Among all the acquaintances I have had in the past forty years, not one spendthrift among them has retired from business a successful man.

Possibly you may look upon the word "spendthrift" as one that cannot be applied to you. You may think it applies only to one who foolishly throws away a fortune. If you will turn to your dictionary you will find that he is a spendthrift who is improvident or wasteful. The word applies with equal force to the man earning ten dollars a week and to him who has thousands.

There are no miracles in the business career. The man who was successful has toiled early and late with all his powers of body and mind. He has been subservient to his ambition. He has pushed aside, because it was the first step toward success, every habit and desire that stood between him and his goal. No man was ever numbered among the successful ones unless he waited and prepared for Fortune when she knocked at his door. She has never yet been known to wait for any man or boy to prepare himself for her company. I know of no one habit that so thoroughly molds the character of a young man as the habit of economy. It gives him strength of will. It teaches him to look beyond an action to its final result. It continually reminds him that the pure, sweet, innocent pleasures of life are almost to be had for the asking, and that Satan is not only a cruel but an expensive taskmaster.

Cures Effected by G. F. P. (Gerstle's Panacea).
One Bottle Cured Where Physician Failed.
I sold your G. F. P. to a young lady customer whom our physician had given up as hopeless, and told her if it did her good to send me a testimonial. After taking one bottle she was entirely cured and has been well ever since.
J. H. GILLMAN, Moore's Bridge, Ala.
Health Restored.
I was weak and in very bad health and unable to do my work. I used one bottle of G. F. P. and I did not know what it was doing, but I felt better and then I used it every day. I am now in good health and can do my work as usual.
Mrs. S. E. CHANDLER, Old, Ark.
Tumor Removed.
The wife of one of my customers had a tumor on her back, which she had had for years. It was so large that it was a great trouble to her. After using three bottles of G. F. P. the tumor was removed, and she is now well.
J. H. GILLMAN, Moore's Bridge, Ala.
Suffered from Change of Life.
My wife was sick for seven years, suffering from the change of life. We tried everything we could get from the doctors and paid out a considerable sum for treatment without any good result. We then began using G. F. P. and in four months she was well and has been so for six years. It is the greatest remedy for suffering females ever placed on the market.
